

Private sector implications of Biden's Executive Order on Climate-Related Financial Risk

May 25, 2021 | Client Update

The Executive Order on Climate-Related Financial Risk is the latest significant step by the Biden Administration to analyze and mitigate the risks that climate change poses to the U.S. economy, businesses, workers and the financial system. In our view, areas where it is most likely to create risks and opportunities for the private sector are the impacts on financial sector, which will indirectly impact other sectors; ESG investing; and sales of goods and services to the U.S. government via government procurement.

If you have any questions regarding the matters covered in this publication, please reach out to any of the lawyers listed below or your usual Davis Polk contact.

Suiwen Liang

+1 212 450 3974
suiwen.liang@davispolk.com

Gabriel D. Rosenberg

+1 212 450 4537
gabriel.rosenberg@davispolk.com

Margaret E. Tahyar

+1 212 450 4379
margaret.tahyar@davispolk.com

David A. Zilberberg

+1 212 450 4688
david.zilberberg@davispolk.com

This communication, which we believe may be of interest to our clients and friends of the firm, is for general information only. It is not a full analysis of the matters presented and should not be relied upon as legal advice. This may be considered attorney advertising in some jurisdictions. Please refer to the firm's privacy notice for further details.

Related materials

Read the full update