

Digital assets and sanctions compliance: Tornado Cash and beyond

November 15, 2022 | Articles & Books

Davis Polk partners Paul Marquardt and Gabe Rosenberg and counsel Will Schisa authored “Digital assets and sanctions compliance: Tornado Cash and beyond” in International Financial Law Review. The article discusses sanctions compliance challenges and best practices in the digital assets space, using the recent Tornado Cash designation as a case study, and addresses the controversy and related legal challenges over whether the U.S. Treasury Department's Office of Foreign Assets Control action was a lawful and appropriate use of its sanctions authorities.

Read the full article