

What to note as HM Treasury, FCA plan new crypto regs

May 21, 2025 | Articles & Books

Davis Polk counsel Mark Chalmers authored “What to note as HM Treasury, FCA plan new crypto regs” in Law360. In the article, Mark provides an overview of the current UK regime for cryptoassets and the government’s proposals for the establishment of a new regulatory regime. In late April and early May 2025, HM Treasury and the FCA published two key documents setting out the government’s draft legislation on the new regime, providing key insights into their regulatory priorities. Mark discusses the main takeaways from the documents and their implications.

Read the full article