

Director independence: Overview and recent developments

July 30, 2025 | Articles & Books

Davis Polk partners Rory Leraris and Kyoko Takahashi Lin authored “Director Independence: Overview and recent developments” in The Review of Securities & Commodities Regulation. The article provides an overview of the legal and regulatory standards governing director independence for U.S. public companies, with a focus on SEC rules, NYSE and Nasdaq listing standards, Delaware law, and proxy advisory firm guidelines.

Read the full article