

Cryptocurrency and other digital asset funds for U.S. investors

October 27, 2020 | Articles & Books

In this chapter for Global Legal Insights - Blockchain & Cryptocurrency Regulation 2021, Davis Polk partner Gregory Rowland and associate Trevor Kiviat examine cryptocurrency investment funds and related structuring considerations for U.S. investors. The $300 billion-plus market of alternative assets in which these funds invest includes Bitcoin and countless other open-source, decentralized protocols inspired by Bitcoin. Partner Patrick Sigmon and associate Alexander Hendin contributed tax analysis to this article.

This article was first published in GLI - Blockchain & Cryptocurrency Regulation 2021.