

Striking a Balance Between Cybersecurity and Employee Privacy

June 4, 2019 | Articles & Books

Davis Polk partner Avi Gesser co-authored an article with associates Matthew Kelly, Anna Marienko and Will Schildknecht that was published in the New York Law Journal on June 3, 2019. The article examines the balance that employers must strike between reasonable cybersecurity measures and employee privacy, emphasizes the importance of having clear policies, and looks ahead to coming challenges.

Read the Full Article >

Related materials

Read the full article