

Five US market regulation forecasts for 2019

January 22, 2019 | Articles & Books

In a piece published by the Financial Times, Davis Polk partners Annette Nazareth and Gabe Rosenberg make their trading and markets regulatory predictions for 2019. While the new Democratic-controlled House makes legislative reforms in financial regulation very unlikely, financial regulators will continue to effect change in key areas, including the Volcker rule and cryptocurrencies.

Related materials

Read the full article