Davis Polk

CFTC’s Clearinghouse Exemptive Regime

November 6, 2015 | Articles & Books

The CFTC has acted on its long-stated intention to establish an exemptive regime for comparably regulated foreign swaps clearinghouses. In an article published on Friday in IFLR, Annette Nazareth and Jeffrey Dinwoodie of Davis Polk’s Financial Institutions Group discuss the impacts and implications for global clearinghouses and swap market participants.