

UK Regulatory Supervision During the Coronavirus Crisis

March 23, 2020 | Client Update

The UK's main financial regulators announced a series of measures last week intended to alleviate some of the regulatory burdens facing firms and financial market infrastructures in the wake of the coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak. These are in addition to initiatives announced by the Bank of England (BoE) and HM Treasury to support the wider economy, which will be discussed in a separate post.
