

60 Days - Over 175 New Derivatives Provisions

May 17, 2011 | Client Update

On July 16, 2011—60 days from now—over 175 new Dodd-Frank derivatives provisions automatically go into effect. Many of these provisions do not require action from market participants. Many other provisions could be deferred by the regulators based on their close connection to proposed rules. Yet, a number of very significant self-executing provisions remain. This memorandum will help you understand some of these new provisions and some of the required tasks to become compliant with them.

If you have any questions regarding the matters covered in this publication, please reach out to any of the lawyers listed below or your usual Davis Polk contact.

Annette L. Nazareth

+1 202 962 7075

annette.nazareth@davispolk.com

Gabriel D. Rosenberg

+1 212 450 4537

gabriel.rosenberg@davispolk.com

This communication, which we believe may be of interest to our clients and friends of the firm, is for general information only. It is not a full analysis of the matters presented and should not be relied upon as legal advice. This may be considered attorney advertising in some jurisdictions. Please refer to the firm's privacy notice for further details.

Related materials

Read the full update