May 24, 2022 | Webinar

Davis Polk is delighted to announce the launch of a new interactive series of webinars for companies that have recently gone public via a de-SPAC business combination transaction. This program is designed for senior in-house legal personnel and executives at such newly public companies.

We hosted our first webinar in this series, “Capital markets offerings by de-SPACed companies.” This first webinar focused on the limitations and nuances that face de-SPACed companies when engaging in certain capital raising transactions.
