

Preparing for pay versus performance disclosure

January 10, 2023 | Articles & Books

Davis Polk partners Kyoko Takahashi Lin and Travis Triano authored “Preparing for pay versus performance disclosure” in Practical Law. The article discusses the “pay versus performance” disclosure requirement, including guidance on performing the calculations required to complete the new table and describing the relationships between performance measures and compensation actually paid.

Read the full article