

SEC clawback rule – Practical tips for adopting and administering the new requirements

June 7, 2023 | Webinar

Davis Polk is pleased to announce a webinar on the new SEC-mandated NYSE and Nasdaq clawback listing standards. Join lawyers from our Executive Compensation and Capital Markets practices for a detailed discussion on the new rules in light of the fast-approaching effective date for adopting clawback policies. We will address practical considerations for companies in adopting and administering the new required clawback policies, as well as some of the thorny issues that have been raised. We will also open up the forum for questions from the webinar participants.
