

What's market: 2023 year-end trends in large cap and middlemarket loans

March 20, 2024 | Articles & Books

Davis Polk partner Sanders Witkow authored “What’s market: 2023 year-end trends in large cap and middlemarket loans” in Thomson Reuters’ Practical Law. In the article, Sanders discusses recent developments in large transactions in the private credit market, outlines the dynamics of jumbo direct lending deals and examines the process of dual track negotiations of broadly syndicated loan proposals and competing private credit solutions.

Read the full article