

Crypto summer: Outlook for digital asset companies under the coming SEC

November 14, 2024 | Webinar

Please join us for a discussion of the prospects for digital asset and blockchain companies, including those seeking to IPO, in the wake of the U.S. presidential election and anticipated leadership changes at the SEC. Topics will include:

- Can the SEC really turn on a dime, and if they can, how quickly?
- Insights into the headwinds crypto companies seeking to go public in the United States have faced over the last several years
- Predictions for what the IPO process will look like for crypto companies under new SEC leadership
- Practical tips for crypto companies starting to plan and prepare for a U.S. IPO
- Exploration of how new SEC regulations will impact public companies moving into the digital asset space