

Applying new FCA guidance on control of financial firms

January 3, 2025 | Articles & Books

Davis Polk counsel Mark Chalmers authored “Applying new FCA guidance on control of financial firms” in Law360. In the article, he provides background to the UK change-in-control regime and summarizes the key takeaways from the Financial Conduct Authority’s guidance on control of financial firms for both UK-authorized firms and those considering acquiring or increasing control in UK-authorized firms.

Read the full article