

Asian private equity and international arbitration: Key current issues

May 27, 2025 | Articles & Books

Davis Polk partner Martin Rogers, counsel Bo Huang and Yuan Zheng and associates Lok Cheung and Caroline Wang authored “Asian private equity and international arbitration: Key current issues” in The Asia-Pacific Arbitration Review 2026. The article examines the evolving landscape of private equity in Asia, focusing on key issues impacting the interests of investors and portfolio companies that have repeatedly emerged in recent international commercial arbitration.

Read the full article

This article was first published on Global Arbitration Review in May 2025; for further in-depth analysis, please visit GAR The Asia-Pacific Arbitration Review.