

Companies Should Verify Data for New Version of ISS QuickScore

January 27, 2014 | Client Update

As of 9 a.m. EST today, companies can begin verifying their corporate data to make sure that ISS has the most current information for when the proxy advisory firm launches its new version of its corporate governance ratings system, dubbed QuickScore 2.0. The window to confirm company data will close at 8 p.m. EST on February 7.

On February 18, ISS will reveal companies' scores to their clients and include them in proxy research reports. There is little information as to what has changed, at least until the technical document is issued, which is expected later this week.

If you have any questions regarding the matters covered in this publication, please reach out to any of the lawyers listed below or your usual Davis Polk contact.

Ning Chiu

+1 212 450 4908

ning.chiu@davispolk.com

This communication, which we believe may be of interest to our clients and friends of the firm, is for general information only. It is not a full analysis of the matters presented and should not be relied upon as legal advice. This may be considered attorney advertising in some jurisdictions. Please refer to the firm's privacy notice for further details.