

U.S. Chapter 15: a Tool for Implementing Foreign Reorganization Plans in the United States – the Elpida Experience, New Business Law (Japan), Issue No.1020 (March 1, 2014)

March 7, 2014 | Articles & Books

Davis Polk lawyers Timothy Graulich, Giorgio Bovenzi, James I. McClammy and Hiroshi Sugiyama recently published an article in the March issue of NBL (New Business Law), a Japanese law journal. In “U.S. Chapter 15: a Tool for Implementing Foreign Reorganization Plans in the United States – the Elpida Experience,” the authors discuss their experience in obtaining the first-ever Chapter 15 recognition of a Japanese reorganization plan for the foreign representatives of Elpida Memory, Inc.

Read an abstract of the article in English >

Related materials

Read the full article