

Davis Polk Financial Services Regulatory Reform Tool—2020 Vision Edition

January 6, 2020 | Client Update

Financial services regulatory reform will continue to be active in 2020, with developments percolating in all three branches of government. As we observe the changing landscape, here is the 2020 Vision Edition of our reference tool, which provides context and summarizes current developments across a range of key regulatory areas, agencies and actors.

The Financial Services Regulatory Reform Tool is available on the FinReg blog, which offers frequent updates and insights on financial regulation, here. We will continue to track these issues and will provide another update in the next quarter.
