

SEC Speaks on Climate Change Disclosure Obligations

January 27, 2010 | Client Update

The federal Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) approved today an interpretive release focusing on disclosure of climate change issues in public filings. Although the release itself has not yet been published, the SEC has made it clear that all companies need to review and analyze their public disclosure now to ensure full compliance with existing SEC rules and regulations in light of climate change risks..

If you have any questions regarding the matters covered in this publication, please reach out to any of the lawyers listed below or your usual Davis Polk contact.

Gail A. Flesher

+1 212 450 4469

gail.flesher@davispolk.com

This communication, which we believe may be of interest to our clients and friends of the firm, is for general information only. It is not a full analysis of the matters presented and should not be relied upon as legal advice. This may be considered attorney advertising in some jurisdictions. Please refer to the firm's privacy notice for further details.

Related materials

Read the full update