

Delaware Court Upholds Barnes & Noble Shareholder Rights Plan

August 18, 2010 | Client Update

The Delaware Chancery Court last week upheld a shareholder rights plan adopted by Barnes & Noble's board of directors in the face of a rapid accumulation of stock by investor Ronald Burkle's Yucaipa funds. In a rare post-trial opinion addressing the validity of a shareholder rights plan, Vice Chancellor Strine affirmed that Unocal provides the appropriate standard of review for the board's adoption and maintenance of a rights plan with a 20% trigger that "grandfathered" in the existing 30% holding of the company's founder and chairman, Leonard Riggio, while limiting further acquisitions by him.

If you have any questions regarding the matters covered in this publication, please reach out to any of the lawyers listed below or your usual Davis Polk contact.

George R. Bason, Jr.
+1 212 450 4340
george.bason@davispolk.com

This communication, which we believe may be of interest to our clients and friends of the firm, is for general information only. It is not a full analysis of the matters presented and should not be relied upon as legal advice. This may be considered attorney advertising in some jurisdictions. Please refer to the firm's privacy notice for further details.

Related materials

081810_bn.html