

SEC's Latest Market Structure Initiative: Proposed Limitation on Options Market Access Fees

April 19, 2010 | Client Update

In an action that potentially affects the business models of the U.S. options exchanges and major option market participants, the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") recently issued a proposal that would cap exchange "access fees" for listed options and also prohibit exchanges from imposing unfairly discriminatory terms that inhibit access to quotations in listed options.¹ These proposals would extend to listed options two provisions of Regulation NMS that currently apply only to listed stocks.
